Catalogue number	Object (short description)	Highest bid	By Phone (X)

Preliminary remark: This is a courtesy translation. The German version is binding.

I instruct the auction house, Auction House Sieglin GmbH, in Gundelfingen on my behalf and on my account to represent the above-mentioned auction and the items listed below up to the highest bid. This applies accordingly to the subsequent open-air sale.

The bids are binding and do not include the commission (brokerage fee) of 24% of the sales price plus 19% VAT. The surcharge can also be made at a lower price.

The catalog number listed is binding (not the title and description of the property). After the surcharge, the total amount is payable immediately upon receipt of the advance invoice. The objects are only handed over after payment.

Written bids are only accepted until 6 p.m. on the day before the auction.

I accept the auction conditions, the house rules and the conditions of participation. I was informed about the regulations regarding the collection of the auctioned items in the auction house, the deadlines and the warranty regulations in the auction conditions.

I have been advised of this and agree that I will always offer at least the limit specified in the catalog within the framework of the written preliminary bid, provided there is no maximum bid below. The further increase takes place in the context of the written preliminary bid and later in the context of the telephone bidding, if agreed. In the case of telephone bidders, the auction house cannot guarantee that the line will be established or received at the time of the call. The risk of the bidder not being available or a line fault lies with the bidder. If the line fails during the bidding process, only the last called up bid applies, no contingent maximum amount mentioned before or during the telephone conversation with the employee of the auction house. The bidder bears the risk of line disruption.

PLEASE NOTE: With your order for bidding by telephone, you automatically offer the limit amount. You can also call for unlimited lots, but we expect - in the case of an increase - your willingness to bid up to at least € 100. If your personal limit is lower, we ask for a written bid.

I agree to the sending of advertising emails. I can withdraw my consent afterwards. There are no costs for this.
